WORK PROGRESSING DOWN ON MEADOW FOR NORTHFIELD AIRPORT

Opportunity for Volunteers on Saturday When Big Ring Marker Will be Cut Out in Sod and Several More Locations Established

Among the volunteers for work on the airport last Saturday were Lawrence Quinlan and his sons (as well as his team of horses), Messrs. Wilder, Steenbruggen, Hart and Walter Luciw. Wind flags were set temporarily upon the four corners of the part of the field south of the piece of corn, so that any plane forced to land can do so intelligently. Also, in the course of the morning, Lieut. Irvine and his brother, Paul, came down and gave the field a critical inspection and offered many valuable suggestions for its development. Lieut. Irvine was most enthusiastic as to the possibilities for a combination seaplane and landplane airport upon the site.

In the afternoon he flew over the field in the big Navy amphibian and viewed it from the air. Also, on Sunday, on his way to Washington, he flew low over the field and it is expected that he will have more to tell us about it on his next visit here. This by the way, he states he will make in a smaller amphibian and that he will land on the Northfield airport.

Fred Harris has secured his flying permit and is now in Cleveland, attending the big air meet there. It is quite likely that he will find the type of plane he wants at this meet and, also, that he will build his hangar and keep his plane on our field.

Next Saturday it is hoped to have a good gang so that the field markings can be started and other necessary work be planned, so as to not leave too much for the week or two just before the public opening. The first marking will be the circle, 100 feet in diameter, which announces a landing field to the air, and as soon as so marked it is expected that we will begin to have visitors by airplane. This circle, on our field, can be made by cutting out the sod like a big ring and filling in with something white. Crushed limestone is generally used but we hope to get by, for the present, with white or as nearly white sand, as we can secure.

Later on we can letter the word "Northfield" in the same way, in the sod; and, later yet, when our preparations warrant, the letters and numbers describing just what our field offers. Some of these go inside the big circle while others go outside. They are all standardized and set forth by government regulation.

EXCERPTS FROM ARTICLE IN THIS WEEK'S NEW ENGLAND NEWS LETTER

Announcements of five new airplane manufacturing plants marks the current news of aviation development in New England. In addition, work has been started on the $2,000,000 plant, already announced to be built at East Hartford, Conn., by the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Co.

The new air plane manufacturing concerns will produce both land and seaplanes. The Granville Aircraft Corp., has been organized at Springfield to manufacture "Gee Bee" planes, a new type. It is reported that the organization is backed by Tait Bros., owners of one of Springfield's three airports, and that production will start immediately.

At Pawtucket, R. I., the Eastern Aircraft Corp. will manufacture several models of all-metal Messerschmidt planes designed by the Bavarian Aircraft Corp. of Germany. The planes will be made at the former Pressed Metal Co. plant. Ray C. Van Arsdale is president of the Eastern Aircraft Corp.

A new firm which will manufacture both airplanes and seaplanes, the Olsen Aircraft Co., has been organized at Bridgeport, Conn. Svend Olsen is president of the corporation, and designer of the planes to be made. The factory will occupy part of the property of the former Lake Submarine concern.

The first airplane factory to be established in New Haven, Conn., is the Viking Flying Boat Co., which will begin operations soon with a force of 180 men, making the Schreck plane, a French design. The company will specialize in flying boats.

At East Hartford, Conn., the Chance Vought Corp., now established on Long Island, N. Y., will build a $1,000,000 plant adjoining the new flying field being developed by the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corp. It has been announced. It is expected that 400 men will be employed. Both this concern and the Pratt and Whitney Co. are subsidiaries of the United Aircraft and Transport Co., of Hartford, which concern it is reported, has recently taken control of the Avian Co. of Los Angeles and the Standard Propeller Corp.

The new Pratt and Whitney plant at East Hartford, to be built from special designs, is expected to be the most modern and complete aeronautical engine manufacturing unit in the world. It is expected to be finished and in full operation early in 1930.

What is described as the largest commercial airplane, purchase ever transacted in this country was recently consummated when the Curtiss Flying Service placed an order for 66 Gypsy Moth planes with the Moth Aircraft Corp. of Lowell, Mass.

Ample evidence of the growing interest in air transportation is the fact that the Airvia Transportation Co., Inc., has increased its Boston to New York flying boat service to two trips each way.

Air transportation is now being used in shipping cotton goods made in Fall River, Mass., to points outside of the state. The first shipment was made via the Puritan Air Transportation Corp., which carried 500 yards of special samples to Hockley Falls, N. Y. In one week recently, 339 passengers landed at or departed from Boston airport.

Development of landing facilities in New England continues. Already, according to a survey by the Boston Chamber of Commerce, New England has 150 airports and landing fields, of which 53 are in Massachusetts, 28 are in Maine, 20 in New Hampshire, 21 in Vermont, seven in Rhode Island, and 20 in Connecticut. Many of these are purely emergency fields, and additional adequately equipped airports are needed in New England, aviation authorities declare.

Northfield Is Getting On Air Map These Days

At Milford, Conn., 112 acres have been purchased by the Continental Airports, Inc., of New Haven, for the construction of a large airport. The new airport recently opened in Bridgeport, Conn., is expected to aid the city's development as an aircraft manufacturing center. At Northfield, Mass., a combination land plane and sea-plane landing facilities are being developed.

By an increase of 27 acres, the What Cheer Airport of Pawtucket, R. I., will be enlarged to an area greater than that required by the government for a first class port. The new Newport Airport in Middletown, R. I., will be equipped with a hangar capable of housing 15 to 20 average size planes. New Haven, Conn., will have a municipal airport, following the voting of a bond issue for this purpose.

Provision of aviation instruction for New England's youth is becoming more widespread. Boston trade schools will soon provide courses in aviation. A ground school has been opened by the Y. M. C. A. at Providence, R. I., under auspices of Curtiss Flying Service.

Rural Mail Boxes Must Be On Right Side of Road

A communication has been received by Postmaster Charles F. Slate regarding the relocation of rural mail boxes on highways where there is considerable travel and where it is now necessary for the carrier to cross the left hand side of the road in order to serve the boxes as now located.

Traffic is constantly increasing on our highways, which makes it dangerous for the carrier to cross and recross the roads as is necessary at several points at the present time. In order to avoid this the department states that the boxes should be located on the right hand side of the road as traveled by the carrier and has instructed Postmaster Slate to send notices to all those receiving mail by rural delivery from the Northfield office who will be required to relocate their boxes.

Eggs Now Being Sold Under New England Marketing Label

The New England Official Farm Marketing Program is now officially in use in all of the six New England states, following the adoption of grades and standards and the use of the New England "Quality Products Label" by a number of egg producers in New Hampshire. Eggs are the first product to be marketed under the Farm Marketing Program in the Granite State, although Department of Agriculture officials and producers are working steadily toward the promulgation of grades for other products. Eggs are now being sold under the label in every New England state.

The ladies of St. Patrick's church are well satisfied with the results of their lawn party of Tuesday evening. A large gathering of people from all over the town patronized the many tables of delicious home cooked foods, drinks and candies. The young people enjoyed games of skill.

Disastrous Fire at Home of Willis Collier in South Vernon

A disastrous fire occurred at the home of Willis Collier in South Vernon early Thursday morning and might have meant the serious loss of life had the family not awakened in time to escape from the house.

The fire seemed to have started in the upper part of the barn and spread to the roof of the house which was about to fall in when Mr. Collier was awakened and succeeded in getting the family out. As they had no telephone some time was lost in reaching a telephone and sending in a call for the Northfield fire truck which responded promptly, saving the house.

The barn with the farm implements, one horse, a valuable Guernsey cow, 31 hens and his crop of hay were burned. One building and 190 chickens escaped.

The loss is estimated to be between four and five thousand dollars and only about $700 worth of insurance was carried.

Franklin County Jail Is Highly Commended

The Franklin County jail and house of correction was found to be "a well managed, clean and excellently disciplined institution," said Judge James A. Lowell, Federal jurist, he said upon his return to Boston from a two day inspection tour of county jails in Central and Western Massachusetts. Judge Lowell visited the local jail Thursday, but his presence was not revealed, due to the characteristic modesty of Fred W. Doane, deputy sheriff and master of the institution.

Pressed today for information as to the inspection, however, Mr. Doane declared Judge Lowell, accompanied by a Federal probation officer had inspected the cell block, chair caning shop, barn and kitchen and had expressed himself as being satisfied in every way with the conditions he found. He came to Greenfield from Springfield where a similar inspection of the Hampden County jail and house of correction was made. So far as is known, Judge Lowell is the first Federal judge to make such an official inspection of jails in this vicinity.

Fred W. Doane, is well known here, being a resident of Northfield at one time.

DOUBLE WEDDING
Wright-Clough and Moore-Wright

An unusual occurrence took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the form of a double wedding, the bride parties being Miss Dorothy Wright, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright, and Richard Warren Clough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clough of Northfield Farms and Kenneth Wright, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wright and Miss Mary Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Moore of Brimfield.

The parlor where the ceremonies were performed was daintily trimmed with Queen Ann's lace and asparagus, an arch being made of green and white crepe paper with a white bell in the center.

A large bouquet of the green and white flowers were in the back and one each side of the arch, with large bouquets of gladiolas and a variety of cut flowers arranged in different places in the hall and other rooms.

Mrs. Clough's traveling dress was a printed silk dress, blue coat and hat and black shoes. Mrs. Wright wore flowered chiffon, black shoes, tan hat and black and tan coat.

The mothers of the bride party were dressed as follows: Mrs. Fred Wright, dark blue flat crepe; Mrs. Moore in navy blue crepe de chine; Mrs. Clough wore brown silk.

Mrs. Clough graduated from Powers Institute in 1923 and from Westfield Normal school in 1927 and since then has been teaching school in Leyden and Northfield Farms. Mr. Clough was graduated from Northfield High school in 1925 and is working for Charles Tenney of Northfield Farms.

Mrs. Wright graduated from the Hitchcock Free academy in Brimfield in 1923. Mr. Wright graduated from Powers Institute in 1925 and is an operator of a gas shovel for the Lane Construction Co. at Hartford, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will live in Hartford, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. Clough will live in Northfield Farms.

About 75 guests were present, coming from Cohoes, N. Y., Warren, Brimfield, Fitchburg, Boston, Holden, Jefferson, Northampton, Greenfield, Northfield, Millers Falls, Montague and Laconia, N. H.

Both brides were the recipients of many lovely gifts including sets of dishes, chests of silver, glass, china, linen and money.

Cake, ice cream and punch was served by Mrs. Raymond Atherton, Mrs. Fred Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bent of Fitchburg and Miss Gertrude Moore of Brimfield.

Thomas Marshall visited Detroit last week to attend the convention and jubilee dinner given by the Chevrolet Co. to its sales supervisory force of some 2000 men. An interesting and varied program was prepared for them, including a day at the plant, a day at the proving ground, a day's outing on the lake and a banquet and entertainment by nationally known radio and stage stars. Tom has been with the General Motors Acceptance Corp. for nearly three years as territorial manager and recently was promoted to his present position as sales supervisor, covering a part of New England.

Athol

William G. Lord of Athol will go to Richville, N. Y., Sunday, Aug. 25th and present to the Baptist church of that town a memorial tablet. The tablet is in memory of the family of Deacon Nathan and Sally Wheeler Barker, who settled in Gouverneur township, near Richville in 1826, going from Sandisfield, Mass.

Soon after their arrival in New York state, the couple affiliated with the Gouverneur Baptist church, taking letters of dismissal from it in 1834, to become constituent members of the Richville church in which membership they remained until their deaths in 1879 and 1881.

At the organization of the Richville church Nathan Barker was chosen its senior deacon which position he held until his death. Of their nine children one died in childhood and the other eight all became members of the Richville church, but because of change in residence only one, Miss Matilda Barker, remained in the church membership for life. There are none of the family in Richville or Gouverneur at present, but there are two grandchildren in Canton, Frank H. Barker and Mrs. Judson Hooper.

The tablet has been prepared, a gift of William K. Lord of Athol, a grandson of Nathan Barker.

United States Marine Band to Open Exposition

ACTING under special authorization of President Hoover, the United States Marine Band, America's foremost musical organization and popularly designated as "the President's Own," will appear at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass., on Sunday, Sept. 15, the opening day, for special afternoon and evening concerts in the Coliseum. In the afternoon the band will play from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock as a feature of the Music Day opening program. In the evening they will play for the reception to the visiting governors and other dignitaries of the 10 North Atlantic States who will be present for the Governors' Day observances of Monday, Sept. 16.

The band, Capt. Taylor Branson, leader, numbering its full enlisted strength of 72 members, will leave Washington by special pullmans Saturday night, Sept. 14, arriving in Springfield Sunday morning. They will entrain for Washington, occupying special cars Sunday night, and from New York to Washington will have a special train. All expenses including transportation and subsistence of the Marine Band members from the time of their departure from Washington until their return to the Marine Barracks will be borne by the Exposition management.

Presence of this most famous and oldest American military band at the Exposition opening adds another page to a long list of musical achievements in Eastern States history. The special Sunday concerts have always been a feature of Exposition week programs and there have been a series of notable musical events including engagements of the Springfield Symphony Orchestra, and such noted bandleaders as Creator, Patrick Conway, Victor, Liberal, Roy Smith and others. Last year Aleppo Temple Drum Corps or Shriners' Band of Boston made the pilgrimage to Springfield.

Now comes the United States Marine Band, and the same programs that have been played for presidents, diplomats, inaugurations and other state occasions, at world's fairs, by radio and for Washington audiences for more than 100 years, will be presented to an all Eastern audience at the Exposition. The engagement in Springfield will be the only appearance of the Marine Band in the East this year, and personal approval of the President to obtain its services was necessary under the Congressional act governing the band which prohibits its public appearance outside the District of Columbia.

Erving

Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert C. Davis and family are visiting relatives in New York state, making the trip by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Formhals entertained Mr. Formhals' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Formhals of Burlington, Vt., a few days last week.

The local schools will open September 3rd, the day after Labor Day.

Oscar E. Holton of this town was granted a divorce last week in Greenfield from his wife, Isabel J. Holton of Long Beach, Cal., whom he married on Dec. 9, 1896 in Northfield. The libellant was granted the decree on grounds of desertion.

Mrs. Emily Hanson entertained her sister, Mrs. C. H. Sawyer of Lexington over the week-end.

Emily Formhals Jeffers of Greenfield has returned from the Heywood Memorial Hospital in Gardner where she recently underwent an operation, and is convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Formhals.

William Fellows, who is in the Heywood Memorial hospital in Gardner, where he had an operation for gall stones last week, is not gaining as fast as his friends hoped he would.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Turner, Jr., motored to White River Jct., Vt., last week Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton of Uxbridge and D. V. Hanson returned to Mr. Hanson's home here last Saturday. The Barto returned to Uxbridge on Monday.

Miss Bessie Sears is entertaining her cousin, Miss Doris Mahoney of Gardner and Miss Marie Powers of Orange and Robert Powers of Waverly were also visitors there during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wiles are with friends in Worcester. Mr. Wiles is in poor health and unable to work.

The new state thoroughfare is completed from the state forest reserve to Erving Mills and a fine road is the result. One way traffic is in force from there to Erving Centre, but before another week one side of this will be finished. Work has progressed rapidly since workmen began putting in the crushed rock. In another week work will be concentrated on the Farley road. It is understood the contract calls for having the entire distance done by October 26.

Approximately $200 worth of gasoline is consumed each week to feed the motor apparatus engaged in building the new state road, between Wendell Depot and Erving which is exclusive of the gasoline used in privately owned trucks. This affords something of the idea of the high cost of road building. Good roads come high but they are worth it in this era of high pressure affairs.

Miss Irene Grout, who is training in the Elliott Community hospital, Keene, N. H., is at home for a three weeks' vacation.

Miss Ethel Farley has been entertaining her friend, Miss Emma Alexander of Watertown for a few days.

A. J. Formhals has finished painting his store and garage using an attractive green for trimmings instead of the red which he previously applied.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Johnson have been entertaining the doctor's sister, Mrs. J. F. Butler and her daughter, Miss Vera Butler, who come from Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Butler teaches in Temple university.

Tramp—Could the doctor spare me a pair of old trousers?
Lady—I am the doctor!—(Path-finder).

"Women, in my opinion are different than they used to be."
"How's that?"

"There my daughter, for instance—she's taking up law, whereas her mother always lays it down.—(Tid-Bits).

Insurance Agent—You had better let me write that insurance for you Rastus.

Rastus—No, sah, boss, I's not too safe at home as it is, sah.

Lake Pleasant

The third week of camp meeting opened with the Lake Pleasant Inn filled to capacity and most of the cottages as well.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Goetz series of lectures given during the past week and on Sunday forenoon and afternoon delighted the large audiences that turned out to hear her on every announcement, and she has more firmly cemented old friendships and made many new ones by her eloquent discourses and pleasant stay among us.

Rev. Otto von Bourg and Mrs. Amelia Adams have served as psychics of Europe and America.

Mr. von Bourg's reputation as one of the leading psychics of Europe and America is well sustained by the excellence of his work.

The Wednesday evening concert under the direction of John Ringhofer was a most happy affair. The hospital scene "The Operation", in which Lawrence P. Bennett took the part of surgeon was a scream; the meeting of the "Ladies Aid society of the Carry Nation Free Will Church of Whiskeyville" with Mrs. Elizabeth H. Goetz as president and Lillian J. Blinn as secretary and treasurer, with important parts taken by Mrs. Harriet Nash, Jane Boyden, Catherine Clarke, Alice Blodgett, Rose E. Niles, Forrest Newcomb and Eva M. Johns brought down the house, and the appearance of "The Opea" was a decided success. The instrumental selections by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schneider were thoroughly appreciated. It was a great concert and Prof Ringhofer staged it well.

The Saturday evening dances are more popular than ever.

Expected That Spiritualists Will Continue to Control

When this article goes to print, the fifty-eighth annual business meeting and election of officers of the New England Spiritualist Camp Meeting association will be a matter of past history. There are some 300 cottages upon the grounds, largely owned and occupied by Spiritualists, but this year there has steadily persisted a rumor that the non-spiritualistic element has cast longing eyes upon the possessions of the association, especially the Temple, and a movement was on foot to vote out from the management the spiritualists.

The directors met and adopted last week the official ballot as follows, every candidate being an avowed and well known spiritualist: President, Rev. Otto von Bourg; vice-presidents, Mrs. Josephine M. Simon, Harriet A. Nash, Amelia Adams; clerk, Rev. Albert P. Blinn; treasurer, Mrs. Calar H. Collamore; directors, Mr. von Bourg, Monroe S. Burt, John E. Butler, J. H. Fink, J. William Feyl, Mrs. Minnie M. Spalding and Erik Osterberg. The ticket will undoubtedly be elected by a large majority as the feeling among the spiritualists and among many property owners who do not advocate that religion, is to preserve Lake Pleasant as a spiritualist camp ground and not to throw it open as a public summer resort.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer at the annual meeting showed a balance in the treasury of $1257 and no indebtedness.

Next Sunday Rev. Otto von Bourg will speak and lecture in the forenoon and in the afternoon at 2:30 the well known lecturer and psychic of Washington, D. C., Rev. Alfred H. Terry will lecture and give messages and he will hold a message service in the evening.

Editorial

WONDERFUL CHANCE FOR EVERY MAN, WOMAN, BOY OR GIRL, TO HELP PUT NORTHFIELD AIRSTRONG

We have spent about 'steen hours skimming through a volume of the poetical works of Browning and found a hundred more good things that we never knew were there; but not the one little thing, that we know is there somewhere or other. So we will just have to express the thought in our own words, as nearly as we can, for we believe it to be something worth while for everybody.

AS INDIVIDUALS, WE ARE ONLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WORK THAT CAN BE DONE WITH THE TOOLS (OR FACILITIES) THAT GOD PROVIDES.

There is not a man, woman, boy or girl in Northfield who cannot NOW or VERY SOON do SOMETHING to help along the development of the Airport. Without cash capital, as yet, to hire labor, all absolutely essential work on the field must be done by goodwill volunteers. Fortunately, in our case, Nature has done so much already that only a minimum amount of human labor is required for our field; but still there is quite a little, just to get ready for the opening days in early October or the last of September, as soon to be determined.

There is still more surveying, fixing the exact sites for buildings, markers, runways, etc., the trees fringing the river have to be cut down, some few humps and hollows in the runways must be levelled off, and so on. And then, as the time for opening draws near fencing must be provided to keep the people off the runways, a portion of the river shore smoothed off for the seaplanes dockage, etc.

Just as soon as the State authorities say the word (which is understood to be favorable) our local American Legion Post are going to turn to and help with a will and assume charge of the whole opening days program; but meanwhile, and at that time, too, there will be ample opportunity for everybody, as aforesaid, who has the time, strength or inclination, to enjoy the privilege of helping to turn our Airport from an idea into a material fact.

This opportunity to make Northfield an Airport town seems to be the only industrial opening available for us at the present time. And only by concentrating our resources and everybody helping in every way that they can will this be accomplished. BUT IT IS AN OPPORTUNITY AND GOD HAS PROVIDED US WITH THE TOOLS AND FACILITIES TO DO IT. Now it is up to us, as Browning expresses it.

With Northfield an Airport town there will be more money spent with our merchants, garages, hotels, professional men and women, as well as among our farmers and working people. There will be jobs for some right away and more to follow. And it is not unreasonable to expect, as in other airport towns, various activities connected with both air and sea planes, possibly factories or repair shops, etc. coming along in due course.

ALL WE HAVE TO DO IS TO DO WHAT WE CAN WITH THE TOOLS (OR FACILITIES) THAT GOD PROVIDES TO DO WITH. Cheerio.

ARE YOU SURE YOU KNOW YOUR ONIONS?

Experiment Station Is Making Progress in Evolving New Type of Onion

Progress in solving the onion growing problem of the Connecticut Valley is being made at the Massachusetts Agricultural experiment station at Amherst according to representatives of the agricultural committee of the New England council and of the State Department of Agriculture. These men recently looked over the onion experiments carried on by Prof. J. P. Jones of the experiment station and Prof. Grant P. Snyder of the college. It will be quite a slow process to evolve a strain of onion more suited to the modern demand for mildness and at the same time one which will be adapted well for cultural conditions of the Connecticut Valley, in their opinion.

"Progress is being made at the experiment station," said L. B. Boston of the Department of Agriculture, who recently made a special study of the onion situation on request of the agricultural committee of the council. It will take a lot of time and patience to develop a new and desirable strain of mild onion for the Connecticut Valley growers, but the experiment station has already tried out a large number of different strains of onions and is now working with the most promising of them after discarding those which, for one reason or another, have proved unfit for culture in the Connecticut Valley.

"These onions are being grown from seed from widely different sources, including all parts of America and from the islands in the Mediterranean Sea. In the demonstration plots they can be compared with one another and those which do the best can be kept for future experiments. At the present time Prof. Jones has 87 strains under observation and experiment. He is not only growing these onions on comparative plots, but is trying to evolve from them a new strain which will be suitable for growth in the Connecticut Valley. Both line breeding and mass breeding are being practiced in the endeavor to develop this new strain."

Another important piece of experimental work which was studied by the representatives of the council and the department of agriculture was the control of "blast", a very destructive disease which at times threatens to wipe out great tracts of onions. Prof. Jones is carrying on some experiments to determine the extent to which different thicknesses of planting affect blast. Experiments are also being tried to determine the nature of blast, whether it is really a disease or just a pathological condition which can be averted by different methods of culture. "These experiments are of tremendous importance," said Dr. A. W. Gilbert, Commissioner of Agriculture. "They are of importance not only to the growers, but to the prosperity of the state as a whole. The value of the onion crop in the Connecticut Valley is more than a million dollars annually. Anything which can improve the outlook for this important crop and safeguard it as a permanent agricultural project in Massachusetts is of great value to the state as a whole."

Preparations For The Tercentenary Celebration

With approximately 50 towns and cities in Massachusetts engaged in preparations for local celebrations in 1930, and with an appropriation by the Massachusetts Legislature at the disposal of an official state commission, plans for the fitting observance of the Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary next year are progressing.

The "Massachusetts Bay Colony Tercentenary Commission", the officially established body authorized by the Legislature and appointed by Governor Allen, has organized. Its purpose as set forth by the resolve creating it is to "devise plans for the participation of the Commonwealth in the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colony." The Commission is instructed to report to the General Court its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect not later than December 1. An appropriation of $25,000 is authorized to be made for this year's expenses and the commission may incur such expenses as are approved by the Governor and Council.

The Tercentenary committee on congresses and conventions reports that its present estimate of such gatherings to be held throughout Massachusetts in 1930 indicates a total of approximately 1,000. The committee is encouraging the holding of such gatherings in whatever section of the state as may be feasible.

Beyond official or community observance of historical anniversaries, the plans being worked out call for each organization or society or group that has contributed during the 300 years to the up-building of Massachusetts, and hence the nation, to make a display of their contributions for the 10,000,000 guests being invited to come here from all over the country next year.

PULSE RATE DROPS WHEN AIR IS KEPT MOVING THROUGH HOUSE

Mere air motion, even though the air be at a temperature that is oppressive when it is still, has the power to lower the pulse rate, reports the Holland Institute of Thermology of Holland, Mich., as a result of 12 years of research done at the Pittsburgh laboratory of the United States Bureau of Mines and the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers. This is important to every home owner, the Institute adds, because it points a way to comfort during the severest heat waves.

Scientists recognize the pulse rate as the best warning of heat stroke in children, old folks and others liable to severe hot-weather ailments. In other words, pulse rate is the best indicator of the severity of discomfort due to excessive atmospheric conditions.

But in one series of tests in England, it was found that just keeping the overheated air moving at high velocity around seven men reduced the pulse rate of one from 128 to 84 beats a minute and of the others by 6 to 20 beats. Similar results obtained in research work at the Pittsburgh laboratory are shown in the chart given herewith, which has been simplified by the Holland Institute of Thermology from one formulated by the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

Practically, the Institute's engineers state, this means that if the air in the home can be kept circulating through the rooms at a lively rate, a distinct cooling effect will be felt by all the occupants. To make this possible, the leaders of the warm air heating industry have introduced electric propeller units into their heating systems, which during hot weather keep cooling breezes circulating through the house.

These latest types of "vaporair" heating systems also make for greater heating efficiency and economy during the winter. For then the function of the propeller unit is to distribute the heat more rapidly through the rooms that require it. Heat waste is reduced because the system is based on the principle of a large volume of moderately warmed air instead of a large volume of super-heated air.

Summer-cooling-winter-heating systems of this type are available both for new homes and for the conversion of old type warm air heating plants already installed.

Mr. Treat also has had three years' experience in accounting work in the auditing department of the Great Northern Paper Co., at East Millinocket, Me., and spent four and one-half years in the shoe manufacturing business as sales manager. He has had good success in each of the three fields of activity and comes to Brattleboro with a fine record behind him. His family will come here later.

The Brattleboro Institute will open September 3rd.

Helping the World to Grow Beautiful, What?

All the world is growing beautiful, and the United States is doing its part to make it so. Exports of toilet preparations and perfumes from this country increased 1000 per cent over 1910 and have now reached $8,850,000 in a single year. Europe is the best customer, and Asia comes next.

Soap, dentrifices, face powder, talcum powder, and rouge bulk high among the exports. Beautiful women of other countries have long had their own cosmetics, but not in such convenient or well standardized forms as these. Ideas of make-up, of what constitutes feminine beauty, differ in all these countries, to be sure. Even in the United States there are types and styles, from the pink-cheeked baby doll to the dark, exotic lady who trails long black robes. But they all find what they want in the varied jars and tubes and packages that are sold to enhance beauty.

Cleopatra with her precious ointments, the princesses of ancient China with their charred willow twig for blackening the eyebrows, and the dusky maidens of the South Sea Islands all have one thing in common as they set out on the journey to beauty. They start with the skin. If that is clean and healthy they have the right foundation for the remainder of their rites. They can give permanent waves to straight hair, or use pomade to straighten kinky hair; they can whiten their teeth or blacken them; they can paint their cheeks pink or blue or

Cattle Increased in Numbers in Massachusetts in 1928

Cattle increased in numbers in Massachusetts during 1928 according to the records in the office of the Division of Animal Industry. At the beginning of each year the Division, through its representatives in each town, takes a census of cattle and other domestic animals. These records are now all in and are tabulated and they show that the cattle population of the State has increased from 185,174 at the beginning of 1928 to 192,180 early in 1929. This is an increase of 7,006 cattle. Up to this year there had been yearly a steady loss in total number of cattle with a quite rapid loss in some counties.

The total number of cattle in 1928 and in 1929 by counties was as follows:

Barnstable	2,060	2,064
Berkshire	19,812	20,841
Bristol	19,428	19,701
Dukes	772	917

"I've Been Reading"

By WILDER BUELL

DARK HESTER by Anne Douglas Sedgwick, Houghton Mifflin Co., pp.
300, $2.50.

The world does move and improve with time. In spite of the many discouraging setbacks and the obvious disadvantages of our modern civilization, there are improvements in manners and point of view that are absolute and unquestionably for the good.
But they are often so imperceptible that we do not realize them until something brings forcibly to our attention the older way. Then it seems almost incredible that such things could have been. One of the absurdities that is disappearing from the modern world is what Mary Roberts Reinhart calls "the cult of the male."
The modern woman loves her husband and her sons and her brothers, deeply and with understanding. But she does not worship him as a god. In fact the American woman has never had the complete attitude of subjection that has been characteristic of England for the last two or three hundred years.
She, the frontier woman of the new world, has walked beside her husband into the wilderness and shared with him, as his partner, both the joys and the hardships of life. Under such circumstances it has not been possible to develop a warped and unhealthy attitude of mind where a woman's whole meaning and significance in life depends on the whim of some man.

But apparently that sort of thing is still going on in England. Miss Sedgwick is a writer of so much power and knowledge that, if she pictures a life and a situation it may be taken for granted that such situations are real and typical. This book is the story of a group of women who revolve about one man, a most commonplace and uninteresting young man. He recovers from wounds received in the war, marries, gets a job, vaguely referred to as something in a shipping office, and settles down in a London suburb to a life of innocuous respectability. And there he is surrounded by a group of women, all of whom live simply for the bit of love and attention that he is able to give each one, and they all struggle, hate and suffer because no one of them can have him to herself. There is his mother, who is the protagonist of the book, his wife, and the girl who didn't succeed in marrying him, as well as several nebulous cousins, aunts and servants who wait upon the three important women with the respect due to those who have a share in the life of this lord of creation, who is referred to by his women folk as an arch-angel. Into this situation comes a man of the adventurer, soldier, explorer type, who has been superannuated home from India. He is a cad and a bouncer, who pursues women for the fun of it and gives them no more than he is forced to give in return for passion.

And all the women then proceed to sentimentalize him. With the result that the heroine of the book finally decides to share her son with her daughter-in-law in love and amity.
The only real scene in the book, that between the young wife and the man who had been her lover before she was married, is mentioned but not described. The rest of it makes you want to throw something.

Many people seem to think that the so-called revolt of youth is against the eternal verities. No such thing! The revolt of youth is against this sort of thing. If the heroine of this book is the person meant by the Victorian woman, against whom the young English intellectuals are revolting, let us all give them a loud cheer. She is no loss! The novel is very well done.
But why do it? Perhaps for the purpose of saying just that. For no one could possibly be more ridiculous, more artificial and objectionable than the heroine of this book.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Matthew 6:9-13. Our Father which art in heaven. Hallowed be thy name.
10. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. 11.
Give us this day our daily bread. 12.
And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. 13. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

Christ.

OUR POET'S CORNER

Genesis 2:8: "And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden."

THE GARDEN

By M. W. A.

A red rose once in a garden grew,
Fed on the sunshine, kissed by dew.
Tendered with such loving care
This red rose, so sweet and fair.

Came a blight at the heart of the rose
How it came there no one knows.
It's petals ope'd to the light of day
Out of the mists of the morning gray.

And it grew at the heart of the rose
The most insidious of foes.
And it withered and faded slowly away,
Though watched by the gardener,
day by day.

May we learn a lesson from the rose,
If at our hearts strife and discord grows;
We may not be perfect in our lives
so fair,
Though we're watched and tended with loving care.

Like the rose we grow from the heart
Let sin in our lives have no part But fed on God's sunshine and showers
Of His love, in our leafy bowers.

Keep our hearts from all evil and strife,
So we may enter His garden, to Life Everlasting, and free from all sorrow,
In a glorious and eternal tomorrow.

French Recipes Will Banish Monotony From American Diet

By: CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef,
Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue, New York City.

BRILLAT-SAVARIN, one of the world's most famous epicures, once said that the discovery of a new dish is more beneficial to humanity than a new star. The majority of American housewives, racked with the necessity of planning three meals a day for 365 days throughout the year, would almost certainly agree with him.

While entirely new dishes are rare indeed, it is still possible for any woman to find among the recipes of foreign lands a variety of dishes that will be new to her and her family. A study of French recipes, alone, will provide her with ample means of escaping the deadly accusation of monotony which, with more or less justice, has been leveled at the American menu. French methods of seasoning, including the use of a little sugar to enhance the flavors of vegetables, will enable her to arouse envy in the hearts of less knowing cooks.

Chef Scotto

a few minutes. Then add a quart of fresh peas, a teaspoon of sugar, a half ounce of butter, salt and pep-

Major S. Willard Saxton
Is a Centenarian

Major S. Willard Saxton, born in Deerfield, August 13, 1829, and believed to be the oldest Civil war veteran in Washington, D. C., celebrated his 100th birthday August 13th in that city.

Major Saxton is the author of what is said to be one of the most complete diaries in existence, a record covering the past 84 years, day by day, a period covering four of the wars in which the United States has fought. They are the Mexican, the Civil, the Spanish, and the World war. Someday it will be published, but not during the lifetime of the author.

Major Saxton is the vice-president of the Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia and since its organization, he has been a member of the Burns post of the G. A. R.

Warren-Newcomb

The wedding of Bernice Evelyn Warren, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Crosby Warren of Hillside road, and Herbert Edward Newcomb, son of Mrs. Mary Randall Newcomb and the late Horace Newcomb of West Deerfield took place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride, on the lawn, beneath an arch of golden rods. The aisles leading to the arch were roped by golden rods and vines.

The bride wore white georgette with white veil in cap effect, fastened with brilliants, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor, Agnes Warren, sister of the bride, wore yellow flat crepe, with cap to match, and carried pink roses.

The wedding march was played by a cousin of the bride, Miss Esther Maynard of Springfield. The best man was Willis N. Townsley of Greenfield. The groom's gift to the best man was a pair of gold cuff-links.

Sixty-five guests were present, coming from Greenville, Ills., Shelburne Falls, Northampton, Buckland, Springfield, Greenfield, West Deerfield, Athol and South Deerfield. Refreshments were served. There were many beautiful presents, including several sums of money. The bride's going away was a blue and white ensemble, with dark blue felt hat.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold lace neck chain with pendant, and to her cousin, Miss Esther Maynard, she gave a sun tan pearl necklace.

The bride is a graduate of Deerfield academy and North Adams Normal school and for the past year has been teaching in West Deerfield and will resume here position in September. The groom is a graduate of Deerfield academy and is a farmer in West Deerfield.

After a week's auto trip they will be at their home. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles L. Stevens, assisted by Rev. P. S. Saller.

"Melody Lane" To Be At Garden Theatre, Greenfield

Starting on Sunday, the Garden Theatre, Greenfield, will present the all talking and singing feature "Melody Lane", starring the famous minstrel, Eddie Leonard.

In "Melody Lane", Mr. Leonard sings all of his old baritone solos including the ever popular song "Ida, Sweet As Apple Cider."

The companion feature is a thriller named "Blockade", starring Anna Q. Nilsson. This is a story of rum running in Detroit and is unusually thrilling. Vitaphone Acts, sound news, novelties and a comedy will be seen in conjunction with feature attractions.

This is an unusually strong program and will provide a solid three hours' entertainment.

FASHIONS
for the SMART WOMAN*JACKETS AND COATS

The world of chic is torn between the full length coat and the shorter jacket effect that has come into its own this season. On the left we have the straight line coat that is designed for dress or general utility wear. The collar may be standing or rolling. Turn-back cuffs finish the sleeves.

On the right is one of the new little jackets that have gained such favor with both young and old. This one is smartly tailored to go with the checked dress underneath. From the front the dress looks like a separate waist and skirt while the back is straight.

First Model: Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 4779. Sizes 14 to 46, 50 cents.

Second Model: Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 4765. Sizes 4 to 14, 30 cents. Frock No. 4617. Sizes 6 to 16, 35 cents.

Airport Notes

From "Airports", the monthly publication devoted to the construction, equipment, administration and financing of airports we note the following:

Aviation is the great transportation method of the future.....There are now more than 1000 airports completed, under construction or being surveyed; in this country. It is said that 10,000 airports are needed..... It is a fact that $300,000,000 has been spent by more than 1000 communities upon airports, since Colonel Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget; and it is reasonable to suppose that an additional $200,000,000 will be spent by another 1,000 communities in the next twelve months.

There will be airports for busy business men who are in a hurry. These ports must be situated close to great centers of population so that little time will be lost in going from the terminal airport to the landing place close to the business and hotel districts. The suburban airports will be located some 100 to 200 miles distant from great centers like New York, which means that commuting distances will increase, on account of the speed of the airplane. In short, the airplane will make great distance seem smaller than the present small distances. Farms and virgin country within a radius of, say, 200 miles of great metropolises, will thus become developed to a high degree by the airplane, in the same way that towns close by the centers of business have developed today by the train and motor car. In the New York Sun of April 25th, the following headline appears: "7 Hours by Air, 9 Days by Train."

Hairline Hints

By GEORGIA O. GEORGE

Fear is making the 1929 woman bald.

Fear that daily shampooing will wash the curl out of her hair is transforming what used to be her crowning glory into a hairless halo.

The bald facts are these. Millions of hairs are dying on American heads today of malnutrition. They have been starved to death. Fashionable coiffures have made women traitors to the principles of hair hygiene.

For the past half dozen years women have been blaming bobbed hair for their thinning locks. But barber's shears never shortened the life of any hair follicle. The artificial way resulting from their regular weekly or bi-monthly visit to the barber's are to blame. The majority of women who thus submit their hair to pride and joy to regular dressings are unwilling to shampoo their tresses in between appointments because the water will wash away their lovely coiffures. In consequence, what is known as the adult cradle crust, composed of the dirt on their scalp and the impurities exuding from pores, forms on their head. This cap of uncleanness, unless immediately eradicated, starves the hair cells and chokes the natural growth, causing premature gray hair or baldness. Beginning in babyhood, the scalp should be shampooed daily to get rid of it.

CLEAN
As a China Plate

The worst part about cooking with an old fashioned fuel burning stove is its uncleanness—it is dirty and sooty and makes everything that comes in contact with it dirty and sooty.

With a modern Electric Range, with no flame, and only the glowing heat elements, your cooking is a clean task, your stove is as easily cleaned as a china plate and your cooking utensils are bright and clean, with none of the smoke and soot that begrimes everything you use on a coal range.

And even the kitchen itself stays clean—your walls and ceilings and everything in your kitchen is kept immaculate with the slightest effort.

B. Maskell of Brooklyn; runner up, E. J. Livingston of East Northfield; winner of third division, Robert Merkel of Providence; runner up, F. O. Hodous.

Raymond and Son

Nelson Raymond and his son, Albert Raymond, pro at the Northfield Hotel links, and Ralph, also employed at the hotel, have made fine golf history this season wherever they have played.

Mr. Raymond has directed the song services for nearly all of the general conference. He has been well known in East Northfield for many years as a member of the Lotus quartet of Tremont Temple, Boston, which has been here several seasons.

Northfield-Keene Won In Professional Golf Match

The first 18 holes of the 36 hole best ball match played on Friday at the Northfield Hotel links ended all even. Mac Sennett of Greenfield and Bob White of Brattleboro led Al Raymond of East Northfield and John Jacks of Keene by two holes, early in the match but Al Raymond holed two birdies in a row, a hog on No. 6 and four on No. 7 and squared the match.

The second 18 holes for the $200 purse was played at the Keene Country club last Saturday morning when the Northfield-Keene pros won the 4 ball match, 6 up and 4 to play. Mac Sennett of Greenfield and Bob White of Brattleboro did not win a single hole. Raymond, the young Northfield star played a dazzling 35 for the first 9 holes which was the course record. He had 2 balls out of bounds for two penalty strokes in the score of 35. He won four of the first 6 holes for the Keene and Northfield side.

When Raymond began to ease off a bit in his hot pace, the Keene pro came on with a bang, and the Greenfield and Brattleboro pros never had a look in.

Mac Sennett of Greenfield for the losers played gilt edged golf throughout the two days play, but unfortunately White of Brattleboro was not able to get his game going on the difficult Keene links and outside of a few brilliant shots he was unable to help Mac to any great extent.

Raymond Brothers Bring Home First Prize From South Hadley

It was a four ball best ball of 36 holes. Al and Ralph brought home the first prize which is some stunt when competing with New England's best pros. Al holed 4 twos in the 36 holes. Their best ball follows:

A. M.	5 4 5 4 4 5 2 4 5—38	76
P. M.	4 4 4 4 6 4 5 2 5—38	69
